Safety Training Solutions for General Industry

Maybe you have big workforce to train, but a small budget. Or, you need to meet industry regulations, but can't keep up with the changes. What if you're now responsible for auditing and need to get handle on your safety program?

The traditional live training experience takes employees off of the job and into conference rooms for hours of tedious instruction—that's not efficient. And trying to track training programs manually with spreadsheets and paperwork is an administrative burden, with endless rounds of data entry, recordkeeping confusion, and low accountability. With tired content that puts workers to sleep, the whole experience of going through the motions to satisfy regulatory requirements doesn't do much for your employees.

On Demand OSHA Training

Vivid on demand OSHA courses are designed to build knowledge quickly and get workers back into production and working safely with better training. Regardless of computer proficiency, workers complete basic OSHA training in 20 minutes, on average. Courses are created by instructional designers, with help from a network of recognized industry experts to create accurate safety scenarios and provide relevant information. Vivid courses are interactive and use the power of storytelling to communicate critical messages. We keep it simple, train for the basics, and focus on the quality of the worker experience.

Vivid OSHA courses are available on demand—train anywhere, anytime, and mobile ready.

Safety Training Systems

The Vivid Safety Training System is designed to be intuitive, natural, and focused on true functionality, the stuff that actually gets used when administering a safety training program, and not on needless options. With a clean, minimal interface, Vivid's Training System, automatically tracks training, generates custom reports for auditing, and securely stores training program data, like course completion and test scoring, in realtime. With Vivid, data security is something you never have to worry about. The information generated over the life of your training program is secure and recorded. We can recall data and run reports back to you for auditing.

Custom Training

Developing custom training with Vivid will create an engaging experience for your workforce. Using the best technology available and working with experienced instructional designers, we craft interactive training that reaches the audience on a personal level, creating memorable, effective training.

With skilled digital artists who script, design, and storyboard, we know how to use the power of storytelling to hook people and communicate key messages clearly. We have the resources to build custom training using new media, from professional narration and animation, to digital film and three dimensional scenarios.

Bottom Line

Save time, save money, get things done easier with a little investment in running a modern safety program. Better safety training, safer workforce.
